

Meet Willa

The results of neglect and the inability of an owner to offer the proper care. Willa a beautiful boxer was used as a local breeder. She came in to the shelter severely malnourished, suffering from mastitis and internal infections relating to repetitive pregnancy. Somewhere there was a litter of pups either alive or dead.

Either way, Willa was no longer of use for her intended purpose so she was disposed of like a piece of trash. After a prolonged recovery in foster, she is now healed and has regained her confidence. She has been adopted into a loving home where her beauty is valued both inside and out.
